DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Navarro, U.S.

Patent Application Pub. 2003/0143974.

Regarding claim 1, Navarro discloses a method (and system) for a cell phone service provider to communicate to a cell phone user, said user located in a particular local geographical area, an alert message that effects that particular local geographical area, said method comprising the steps of: determining the user is located in said geographical area; receiving said alert message from a reporting agency, said message containing information as to locations effected; determining cellular phone cells that are serviced by the cell phone service provider and that are in the effected locations; and, providing to the user at least one communication advising him of the alert message (para 0019).

Regarding claims 2 and 9, Navarro discloses the method of claim 1 wherein the reporting agency is selected from the group consisting of National Weather Service,

Art Unit: 2686

National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, Amber Alert Systems, State Police, and local police (para 0119).

Regarding claims 3 and 10, Navarro discloses the method of claim 1 wherein said communication is selected from the group consisting of displaying information, triggering an audio alert, and supplying a voice message (para 0025).

Regarding claims 4 and 11, Navarro discloses the method of claim 1 further comprising the step of: permitting the user to limit said providing step based upon subject content of the message (para 0022).

Regarding claims 5 and 12, Navarro discloses the method of claim 1 further comprising the step of: permitting the user to limit the frequency at which said communications are provided to him (para 0022).

Regarding claims 6 and 13, Navarro discloses the method of claim 1 further comprising the step of: limiting said providing step to only those users who are members of a certain class of recipients intended to receive said alert message (para 0019).

Regarding claims 7 and 14, Navarro discloses the method of claim 1 further comprising the steps of: defining the location of a destination contained in the message; and, communicating to the user directions from his present location to said destination (para 0020).

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Day, US 6463273, discloses a wireless warning system.

Hunter et al., US 2003/0069002, discloses a system and method for emergency notification content delivery.
